

Satoshi and Go Vacation Adventure in Arceus Kingdom

Epilogue - New's Year Party

- Go and Scorbunny don't eat all those Brigadeiro by yourselves! Says Satoshi who is a bit grumpy on the sofa of Ohkido's ranch house living room with Go and Scorbunny at their side with the plate of brigadeiro in their hands.

The boys are in their pajamas playing with their recently gained Switch consoles from Christmas, Satoshi got a blue one while Go got a yellow one, they both are playing Pokken and Super Smash Bros Ultimate who recently got Cinderace as an DLC, it's already past midnight and it's a brand new year full of adventures, hopes, research work at the Institute Sakuragi, Pokémon to catch and battle.

No one remember their epic adventure in Arceus Kingdom, only Satoshi, Go, Pikachu and Scorbunny, still, they had a lot of fun in the next morning at the resort and the lessons they learned from their epic adventure still continues in Satoshi, Go, Pikachu and Scorbunny hearts.

- I'm not eating all of it! Just my part, you ate half of it! Says Go with his mouth full of chocolate giving the last one to Scorbunny who loves it - Bun Bun! Go puts the empty plate on the wooden living room table, Satoshi starts to yawn a bit because it's way past his bedtime, Pikachu at his side also yawns - Chaaaaaaaaaaaa! Says the sleepy Pikachu.

The Junsar Police arrested the previous three managers of Team Rocket who worked there alongside the scientists who worked with Arnozobo and his crime family, curiously enough, the Junsar Police received an anonymous letter with a big red letter R with a pen drive containing all the information they needed to make the arrest, no one has seen Arnozobo and his crime family since then.

Curiously enough, the Junsar Police also discovered a series of ancient ruins of Lake City leading to a breaking news story for the scientific community, a new president has been elected from the chair of executives of the Arceus Kingdom, a very smart and beautiful woman who will live to the high standards of the resort.

- Hey Go! Do you want to go outside to see if there will be more fireworks before we go to bed? Asks Satoshi, Go smiles and says - Sure! Scorbunny is almost sleeping too but he goes with the boys to see if there are more fireworks.

They are outside of Ohkido's living room that leads them to a big beautiful garden, they look at the starry countryside sky and see a lot of stars, they admire the beautiful of the sky and wonder if there are Pokémon in other planets too, they feel a bit chilly from the night wind of that first of January.

- Go, we had a lot of adventures last year! Says Satosh as he giving a fist bump to his friend who smiles.

- Thanks for being my best friend! I hope we can be friends forever, me, you, Pikachu and Scorbunny.

The boys smile at each other and yawn because they are too tired from all the fun they had at the New's Year Party, Go then says - My mother said you are invited to stay at my house during our holiday vacation until school starts again! Says Go smiling Satoshi then says - Okay! Count me and Pikachu in!

- I see you guys are still having a lot of fun! Says a familiar voice from behind them, the boys and their Pokémon turn their backs and they see Alis with Altaria by her side - Altaria! Altaria! Chirps happily the Pokémon.

The boys smile and hug them with their Pokémon - You both disappeared so sudden we didn't even have time to say goodbye! Yells Satoshi happy to find her again, Go says - Yeah! It was so fast!

Alis politely says - I'm sorry, but we can't maintain our presence after our duty is completed, I had to rush to help Darkrai be free, sorry for leaving so abruptly, I came here on way for another mission just to say that I will miss you Satoshi, Go, Pikachu and Scorbunny.

Go smiles and says - As long as we're Pokémon Trainers, as Satoshi always says, we will be able to see each other one day!

Satoshi smiles and agrees with his friend - Yes! This is what I say, Pokémon Trainers are always meeting and parting, one day, we will meet again!

Pikachu and Scorbunny also agree with the wise words of their Pokémon Trainers - Pikachu! Scorbunny!

Pokémon are bridges that can connect our feelings and bring miracles to reality, even if we're apart, anyone can meet again as long as they believe, and anyone can be a hero, as long as they value the smallest acts of kindness.

THE END.
