

Tumor Trouble Duo - The Grand Finale

**Check outlines for each topic, title includes what it contains****

Document written by: Lolita, Jim_nex (We grinded for hours, lol)

It's been some time since the last document and myself and a couple of friends decided to create another document in response to the constant threats that have been directed towards Furrmont. Whether it may be immature, or informal, we find it the best possible way to respond to the injunction. This document will be quite large but it will get almost every point we need said, said. This document compiles all the information together regarding Cherry and Fexy, which is what's always brought success and awareness.

Cherry & Fexyk: You can hide behind your little screens all you want, isolated in your dark home and try to get away with this shit. Cherry, you're a 20 year old man living off welfare and being a leech to society. Fexyk, you're an honest to god manipulative troll online. Look at all the bullshit you've both done to get yourself this much of an irrefutable mockery of a reputation.

Let's see :

- Cherry
- Fexyk
- Lurest (If you even think he's "relevant")

Team Cherry - Pumpkilicious (Always known as Cherry)

I know there have been at least 5 - 7 documents that have been released against both Team Cherry and Fluff & Stuff in the past but we're going to make one final document to end them all.

There's no real easy way to begin this document except for stating the fact that Team Cherry is complete and utter rubbish. I should probably rephrase that. "Team Cherry's owner is complete and utter rubbish". That sounds much better. Now it's no secret that most people in this community hate Cherry and what we're going to give you in this document and different sections and reasons why people hate him and his actions of the past.

The drama that encompasses Team Cherry seems somewhat cyclical, It's a cycle in which Drama occurs > Massive outrage from the community > People leave, or now have bad blood > After a certain amount of time the server returns to its regular amount of activity > Drama occurs... and vice versa.

As my friends and I were working tirelessly on releasing Furrmont, I decided to partner with Team Cherry, obviously given the ok by Trixinity (while he was owner), because I knew Cherry might have wanted to try to remove the partnership. The moment Trixinity or Neosk returned ownership of Team Cherry to Cherry, that partnership was removed and members were kicked or even banned, that lead to mass amounts of drama between staff and the server.

When Cherry gave ownership of Team Cherry to Trixinity most people believed this was a new era for Team Cherry and that there will be real change, little did we all realize that Cherry still had an iron grip on the server and battled all of the staff decisions (that they agreed to unanimously.) Trixinity at one point couldn't handle all of the bullshit that comes with being the owner of Team Cherry and eventually gave complete ownership of the server to Neosk who couldn't handle being owner aswell and during the period when Neosk was owner, Cherry started a massive argument about how different members should be banned in Team Cherry, and that he didn't like certain members of staff. This eventually lead to Neosk giving back ownership of the server to Cherry due to the fact that he couldn't handle the stress and pressure of being the owner of such a horrendous server. The moment he regained complete control of the server there was a massive staff/member purge which yet again led to more chaos. Many members of staff in that server have already completely given up because there's no hope for the server and the goal of an adequate server with a good, non-pernicious environment, free of toxicity or at least close to none is impossible.

Cherry has a cycle, it begins slow and light, maybe even innocently: Bot commands, furrkisses, and trying to hit on other users in the server, all this leads up to spam. Then Cherry claiming to self-harm, kicking, banning, and large scale server drama. Then the cycle repeats. He's a very linear person and always takes shit to the next level, ones you haven't even seen publicly.

During that day, the server was on a rampage, and Cherry ended up deleting his own cause, to try to stop drama, he deleted the general channel of his own server, what others including me were trying to prevent, we all had faith in the owners that were preceding, that tried, Neosk and then Trixinity, but it was all prevented to happen by Cherry, still affecting any changes that happened, it's a cycle, and after that, Cherry still seemed to dislike drama, ironically, the drama that was caused by himself.

Both Lolita and I were staff inside Team Cherry., what can I say, we've seen both sides, both Team Cherry and Fluff & Stuff are pretty similar when it comes to organization and ordinance, there's no enforcement of rules and guidelines, it all varies. Both servers are nothing more than hubs where trolls can gather and shitpost. I'm not calling every member in both servers trolls or shitposters. A lot of the members in both servers are amazing people, and some of them are good friends of mine, but because of this multiple staff affiliates have given up on the idea of improving either Team Cherry or Fluff & Stuff over seeing it all ignored, even members can recognize it.

Now in the case of Team Cherry and its staff, several members of staff have left in the past, and they've all left for the exact same reason : Cherry. They all realized what he was and that their opinions and ideas will never be set in motion and the concept of change is a myth in that server. Members of staff who left or were even banned from Team Cherry were also threatened by Cherry because they couldn't deal with the server's bullshittery.

Some of the staff members that have left include :

- Tartuk
- Bomby (Blue)
- Parkerio
- Jim_nex
- Kat Queen
- Desire
- Marz
- Neosk
- Lolita
- Zen
- Ara
- Apollo Draxium
- Dr. Venustus

There's many other members of staff who have completely given up on Team Cherry, but for the sake of privacy and respect for them we won't mention any names. All the past staff associates left for one obvious reason: Cherry. Cherry is a manipulative and vindictive person and all he does is use people. Similar to Fexyk, he ignores staff's ideas and opinions, doesn't respect his members, and does whatever the fuck he wants without thinking about the consequences of his actions (and that includes breaking the law, but we'll get to that later.)

There was also that time when Neosk was the owner of Team Cherry, and the response of the server when he kicked Cherry temporarily for starting drama. After that happened the server flooded with uprise:

There's many more instances of members celebration at the fact that the dreaded owner is finally gone and that there's hope for the future. Sadly not ten minutes later he returned and dashed everyone's hopes, Cherry had left for a lack of ultimate power in the server.

Cherry constantly claims that we at Furrmont are liars. Cherry genuinely believes that that basically everyone who doesn't agree with him or conform to his decision is a liar and a traitor. Cherry doesn't seem to understand that people are all different, and that different opinions and ideas are a part of life. He continuously ignores all his staff's ideas and opinions just like Fexyk in Fluff & Stuff. Being a member of staff in either one of those servers is absolute hell and there's no gain in doing so.

I wasn't surprised to hear that Cherry had unsystematically decided to switch "sides" and terminate the partnership with Furrmont in favor of Fluff & Stuff. It wouldn't make a difference anyway, because Fluff & Stuff and Team Cherry are both horribly toxic servers with no aspiration and desire for improvement. Terminating our partnership for the best benefits that he is given from a partnership with a server who has a mind very similar to his was clearly favorable. I (Jim) was banned for advertising my partnered server in Team Cherry.

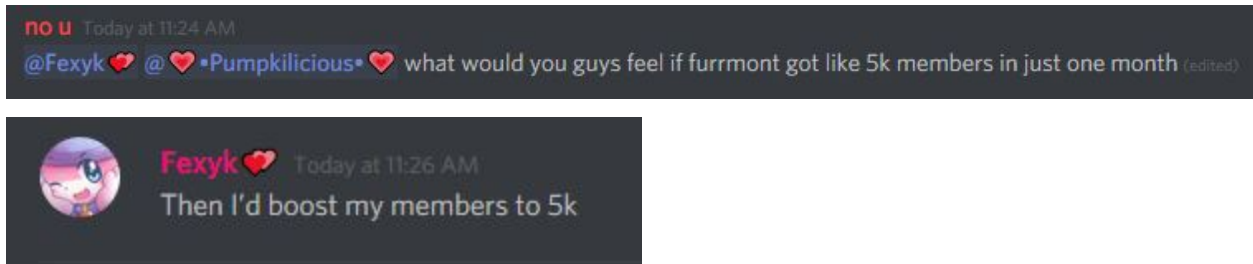

When he ended the partnership he (for no specific reason) decided to throw insults and personal ones at that to our server. He has no basis for any of these and they're all based in fiction. We're not after number, nor are we after any form of recognition from a server like Team Cherry.

Furrmont was founded on the idea that there needed to be a quality furry server with no bias opinions affecting staff decisions, no drama, no toxicity, no overall bullshit. We wanted to make a server that was actually organized and professional to some extent. We don't care about the amount of members we have, as long as they're good ones. We don't want a constant stream on shit and we've done very well to prevent it so far.

What is the point of a partnership again? To gain members, and advertise your server. That partnership with Team Cherry had been in the partnership channel for days, but it wasn't until now that you've decided to switch sides for benefits, and benefits it shows.

If you believe that any of us at Furrmont are anything like Fexyk then you'd be surely mistaken. He's a self centered, arrogant, and pretentious child, who has a borderline insane fixation on numbers. A person who values quantity over quality in his own server. He doesn't focus on improving his already existing server, he just dumps more funds into his server in a pitiful attempt to gain more members so that his server will remain "active" and "relevant".

Fluff & Stuff - Team Cherry relations

The fallout from the drama regarding Furrmont vs Team Cherry, and the drama between Lolita vs Fluff & Stuff resulted in a potentially indefinite partnership between both servers. As you all may already know relations between Fluff & Stuff and Team Cherry have been nothing but a train wreck in the past. Many people have attempted to settle intervene and act as a mediator between them so they can work past their problems but that effort has gone to waste many times. I can't name all their quarrels but there was definitely at least one hundred separate occasions. Their own personal arguments have been fought by using their servers as a weapon. They've "exposed" each other countless times, meanwhile using their own servers members as a tool to spread hatred. Nothing good has ever come from their arguments, hell the creation of Fluff & Stuff originally nothing more than an effort to spite Cherry and "beat him" -Fexyk.

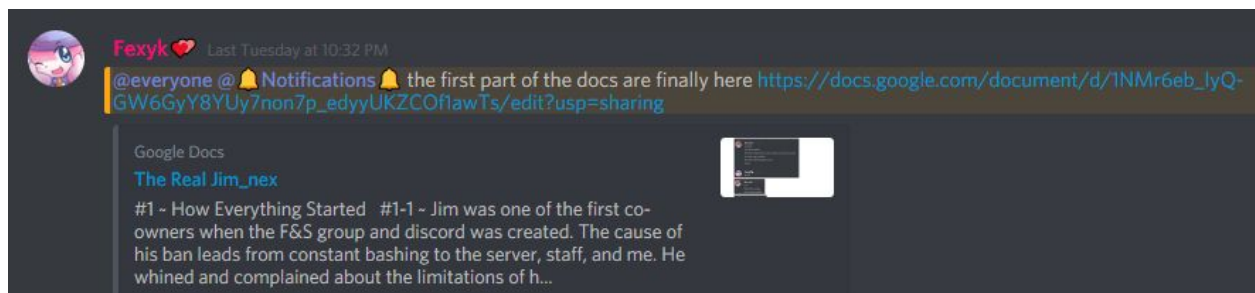

They recently have decided to finally join "sides" because now they have a common enemy: Furrmont. After I (Lolita) released my documents about why I was leaving Fluff & Stuff, tons of active members left and even other staff members decided to leave. That lead to the server falling into a mini-depression and Fexyk needed to patronize the remaining members in an effort "revive the chat". He and Cherry now with a common enemy and decided to "team up". Now they have a partnership and do nothing except for hate on Furrmont and spread lies. Not even three days after their partnership, Fexyk and Cherry decided to promote each other to staff in their servers and that's the way it has been ever since.

Now that most of the original staff members in both Fluff & Stuff and Team Cherry are gone, the owners are free to do whatever they want without consequences. No one is now there to keep them in line.

Both Fexyk and Cherry really make the dream team of tumors, no wonder they were shipped. Ironically, that led to a partnership break on Cherry's part the last time, and the pings in F&S showing that Cherry tried to erp with minors once more, tsk, tsk.

Fexyk responded to both our documents against Fluff & Stuff, and that document consisted of nothing more than very weak points founded on nothing but lies or situations taken completely out of context and poor restatements. He has nothing to say against us and he knew it. He made many pings regarding his documents in his server and sadly he was given the platform that both Jim and I never had, a server with over 700 members. Most members never has the opportunity to read our documents and that's why there's a lot of stigma and prejudice directed towards us and members of our server because they only got to hear one broken and lie filled two page document. He made constant reminders for his members to read his documents which he got to advertise on a much larger scale than we did.

The fact that Fexyk tried to reach a 'coming to terms' deal with Jim, ended up resulting in small little hints such as warning for toxicity, "When you came into the server it was toxic" - Fexyk, but the fact that he did it poorly was also to note, seeing that yet he even tried to end it, or actually took the initiative seeing that he had ended making his documents and accepted to the points in all my previous documents on Fexyk and Cherry to be correct.

So it isn't supposed to stir more drama? That you are pinging both Team Cherry and Fluff & Stuff with your cheap little bypass that you use more than once, that only showed how offended you became when I called you a retard.

Yes, so now you see the real Jim_nex, the one that shows how much I dislike a person, to lose all due respect for you, even if it was respect against not calling you certain things, and we see both Fexyk and Cherry kiss each other for much more to come.

5/19/18 - Cherry deciding to threaten Furrmont. Cherry and pedophilia.

I'm sure most of us can agree that we are already familiar with the situation regarding Cherry being a pedophile, and Cherry, claiming it as if it was all a rumor and denying it all. Now I'm not attempting to revive dead drama or instigate any further argument concerning this particular topic. But we all know that Cherry is a pedophile, the issue is only intended to be poorly dissipated by Cherry, but everyone else would have known about what he's done if anyone told the coming members what he's done, hell when massive amounts of hate was pouring into his server after screenshots were leaked from when he sent naked photos of himself to underaged members, and when Cherry was ERPing (Erotic Roleplay) with children, he had admitted that he was a pedophile and when his server was responding to these screenshots this is what he had to say:

Now to think that the owner of one of the largest servers in the ROBLOX based furry community doing this kind of bullshit online is absolutely disgusting. Cherry is a menace to society and I honestly believe he should be put behind bars or at the very least seek some form of help.

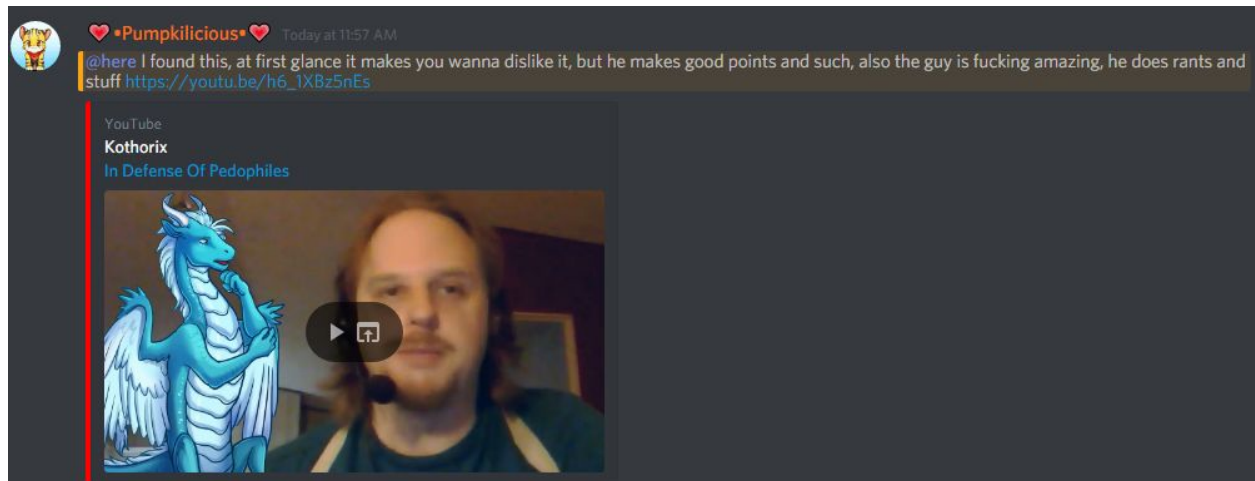

Cherry has been doing this kind of bullshit online for months now, and it's nauseating, it's always been discussed about, especially by people who hated Cherry very much on both Fluff and Stuff and TC.

To think that this is only the tip of the iceberg when it comes to Cherry and children, there has been multiple different leaked screenshots revolving around Cherry doing illegal shit with children and not a single person has taken action, it's very often gotten to Cherry liking and trying to hint at sexual acts between users in his server and through DMs, including staff themselves. He is a foul being and at the very least needs to have his Discord account banned considering the amount of rules in the discord ToS (Terms of Service) that he has broken, not to mention laws,

Hell, even the owner of F&S promoted all this had happened, during turmoil and apartness of lost partnerships, both Fexyk and Cherry had always been at their necks for months.

Cherry has had this kind of irreparable and known terrible reputation for so long, and still is said of by people other than just us, members from FF, and more, how his previous Discord account was terminated for raiding, not so very SJW of you.

To further this conversation, yesterday he made this ping to the entire server (or the part that still has their pings unsuppressed) of Team Cherry to recommend a video that from first glance seems to be defending pedophiles. Now I actually went and watched this video after he posted it, and it doesn't directly defend pedophiles but it's advocating different methods of dealing with pedophiles and how we shouldn't just lock them up because of what they've done, but aid them in seeking help.

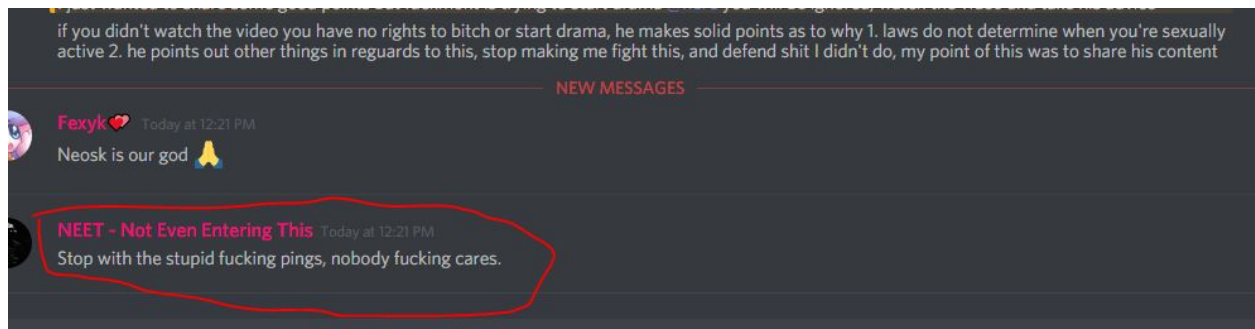

After he posted this video huge controversy sparked inside of Team Cherry, and members from multiple different servers were all talking about this ping he just made and that lead to people rekindling all the Cherry pedophile insults. He then proceeded to respond to the hate with this:

“Oh and this video is not to be fighting stuff I did a year ago, fuck that shit” (Nice confirmation there)

Now here's my favorite part, when all the members of his server are rebelling against him and his own staff is telling him to quote, “Stop with the stupid fucking pings”, this isn't the first time staff had tried to shut Cherry up because they know he's only directing more conflict at himself, but it is either deleted or ignored, and claimed as drama by Cherry.

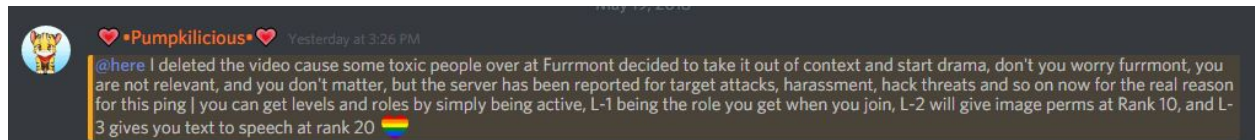

He completely ignores the demands of his server and decides to unremittingly respond with the most ridiculous and blatantly false comments ever.

This next comment is so fucked up, and to think he actually believes it gives me a splitting headache. There's plethora amounts of reasons why these laws are in place and him making such a redundant comment makes me loathe him more.

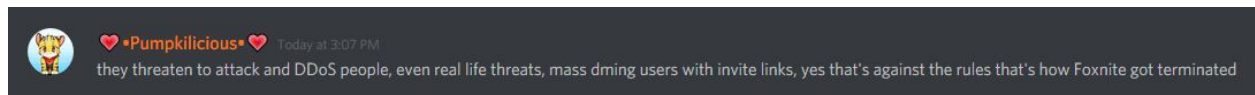

To draw attention away from himself and to distract his members and the community as a whole from his most recent comments (that he deleted) he continues with his bullshittery and decides to blame Furrmont for the backlash that Cherry received due to his comments because we allegedly, “take it out of context and start drama”. We have done nothing of the sort and have a strict policy about keeping drama out of our server. He then decides to threaten Furrmont and claimed to have reported the server for “target attacks, harassment, hack threats and so on” (all things that Team Cherry is infamous for) We just recently released the server and there has been no issues. We have not yet responded to any of his fabricated stories. He reported us under completely fallacious reasons. The fact that he hates us only shows his fear of what may happen to him, another one of his Discord accounts banned.

He persistently claims that Furrmont isn't "relevant", yet he unceasingly posts hate surrounding our server and has made multiple pings regarding our server and how we're "brainwashing" our members. We have yet to even make one ping regarding your server, we know when to stop unlike your crummy self. Yet on the opposite side of the spectrum there's Team Cherry who has made roughly 5-7 pings (most deleted) regarding our server.

Cherry, we don't worry about, "numbers" and "relevancy" unlike you. We care about the quality of our server and how free the environment is of toxicity and we care about the feelings of our members and want them to have the best possible experience in Furrmont, wholesomeness overall. There's a saying that goes, "Form over function". Steve Jobs once said "Quality is more important than quantity. One home run is much better than two doubles."

We have not ONCE threatened any other server with real life threats and have NEVER threatened to DDoS people. Whoever sourced you with this information is playing you for a fool (It's not like this is the first time Cherry has been played for a fool though.) Unlike tons of exposals upon, staff rebelliance, and so much more.

If you're fearing a few members from Furrmont who have their own ideals, and you become really defensive over what's going on or what you fear, then that only makes it so obvious that the fact that you attempted to take what certain members said as fact and decide that they represent Furrmont as a whole is completely false. What certain members said was nothing more than a rumor. When Cherry tries to advocate for furry rights on ROBLOX, but proceeds to upload bypassed furry porn images, then he asks why people hate furries:

This is the tip of the iceberg that is hate against Cherry, what we've shown you here is just a fraction of the hatred that his own members and staff have against him. It just about summarizes his terrible reputation, and these are just the recent posts. If we were to post every instance of Cherry hate, we would have a document with that the very least 10,000 pages,

And let's say, around 2 docs I (Jim) have made on Cherry that was endorsed by Fexyk.

Fexxy, you got what you wanted, another doc on Cherry because you whined that he didn't get one but you did. But don't worry, we'll take care of you next.

Cherry banned from FF (for sending nudes to underaged AGAIN) and he goes to blame Furrmont for it, very typical just because of one light interference or even a slight association.

As if that wasn't enough, Cherry decided to cause more drama upon him, and what led to his ban on FF?

All I have to say is, “.”

Cherry has done nothing but hurt people. He tries to hide what he does and the drama he causes by: purging the chat, deletions, kicks and bans, and of course Cherry's favorite thing to do: Lie. He runs from the truth, and every lie he spits eventually gets proven false. He has actually on different occasions confirmed that he lied to his server.

And when Cherry can't counter, you'll hear no response from him.

I've been hearing about additional hate being sent to Furrmont, and lots is indirectly endorsed to happen, people like Cherry and Fexyk and their relatively large platforms are cohering other members into spreading hate and raiding Furrmont. Why not check it out:

Furrmont Raid

We've had to deal with the hate being sent out, as well as raiders, and this is all being indirectly endorsed by the owners to happen. Because this wouldn't be addressed we've decided to include this into the document just to support the statement we've made regarding them brainwashing and controlling their members into breaking the ToS and spread hate.

This pair of screenshots actually amuse me. ^.^

Why today we had a small group of users who came to troll inside of Furrmont. They all joined and made offensive jokes in pending, and they were all obviously trolls. But we try not to profile and assigned roles to the users in pending that were relatively respectful and answered the survey. They joined and made jokes like, “Gay is bad” something along those lines. Eventually they all left since their friends didn’t join. Shortly after Zen (an admin in Furrmont, and ex-staff members in Team Cherry) decided to ask Cherry about this, and this was Cherry’s response:

Cherry still mocks our server for absolutely no reason in his response. But then claims to be friends with one of the trolls. Nothing here is confirmed and this is nothing but speculation, but based off the fact that he has sent raiders into our server before and he knows these raiders. I think it's safe to assume he either invited them or told them to spread hate.

Concerning Fluff & Stuff:

Now we're going to try and keep this section short because this document is primarily directed towards Cherry.

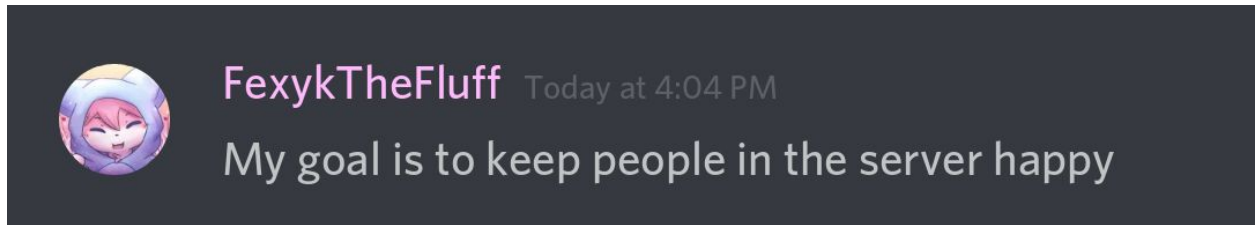

There has been over five released docs about Fluff & Stuff and I think most people reading this will already know what they've done and the kind of people that run it (Fexyk)

If you wish to learn about the problems within the staff and some of the server's problems in general please read Lolita's document:

<https://docs.google.com/document/d/1VW2t3Y5aIOX-VOoNfYLB9FwCIPPW6DbeMCTyQ8uKOZw/edit?usp=sharing>

I believe most people reading this document are all familiar with Fluff & Stuff and its post pre-teen owner, Fexyk. If you don't then let me give you a little bit of background. Fluff & Stuff was a server made for the sole purpose of "beating" Team Cherry. Due to personal drama between Cherry (the owner of Team Cherry) and Fexyk.

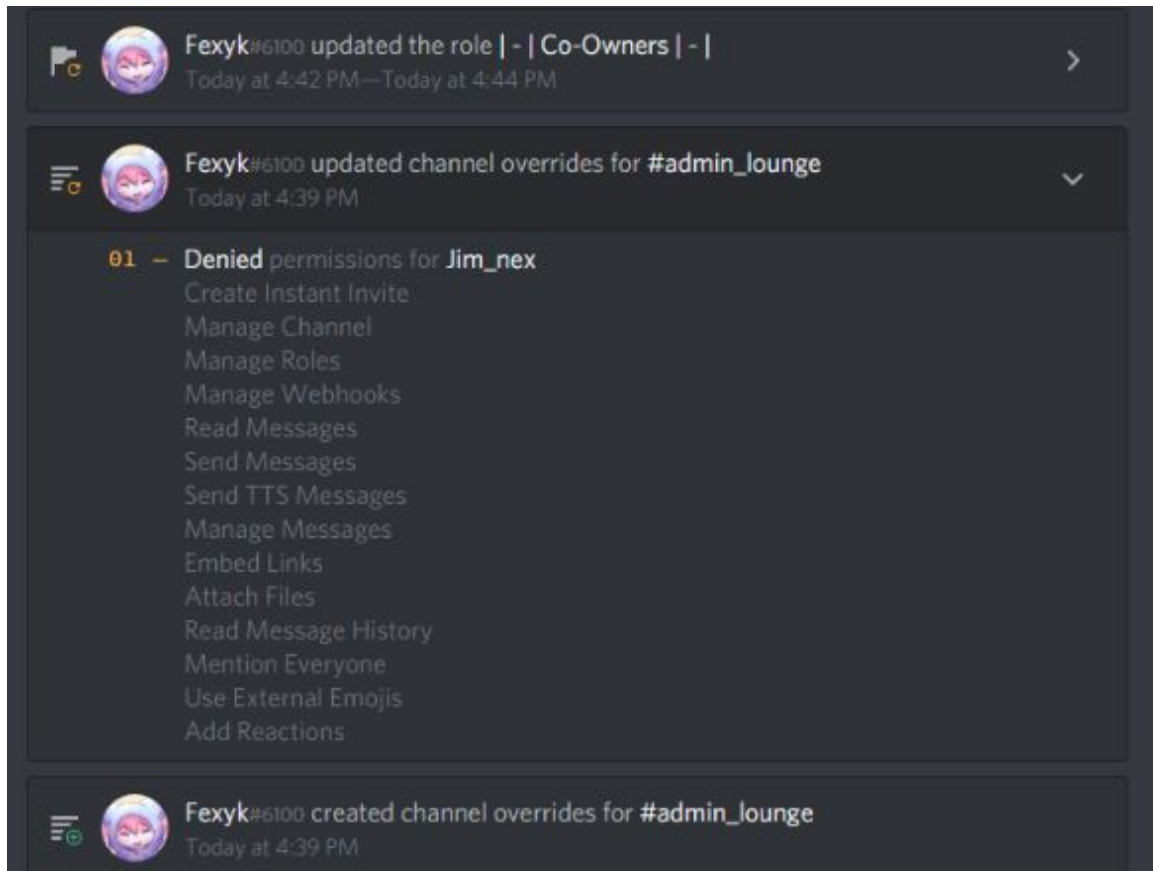

Overtime the server grew larger and larger and eventually Fexyk accomplished what he came to do which was “beat Team Cherry” and the moment that happened that was a turning point for the server.

This particular screenshot is amusing because 90% of the server is unhappy. He encourages shitposting and hatred. He thinks allowing abuse of bot commands and NSFW content in general will keep the Fluff & Stuff active.

In the beginning Fluff & Stuff was an active, safe, and non-poisonous community. Fluff & Stuff actually had the ability to skyrocket and reach the top, it was given the platform to do so if handled correctly. Time passed from when Fexyk beat Team Cherry in numbers and that's when the server slowly deteriorated. See I believe Fluff & Stuff runs solely off drama, if there's no drama then there's no server. There has been at least 20 different instances of large scale drama in that server and each time it occurs the server dies a little more but it for some odd reason fuels the owner. Fexyk is a being who seems to thrive off hatred. He now uses Fluff & Stuff as a tool for drama.

Jim was completely used by Fexyk and demoted for absolutely no reason. Jim wanted to improve the state of the server when he was a Co-Owner in Fluff & Stuff, so he would constantly suggest different ways of doing that but Fexyk would just shut down. He ignored him and harassed him. Eventually Fexyk did this:

He had many of his perms overridden which lead to drama and Jim being demoted and leaving. Fexyk and Jim have a history because they dated and they founded Fluff & Stuff together. But Fexyk didn't like Jim after they broke up and held a grudge against them that would last months.

Staff had either given up or were demoted by Fexyk for light offenses and suspicions. Fexyk now does whatever he pleases and ignores his staff ceaselessly. Now faced with the issue of lack of staff (because most have left) he has decided to promote every troll who's active in Fluff & Stuff into the newest addition to the team.

At this point I don't care about Fluff & Stuff and it doesn't matter to me if he decides to hire people like Lurest or Film onto the team. But It's funny to think that Fexyk believes needs more staff, when he doesn't even listen or talk to his existing ones or even acknowledge their ideas.

Fluff & Stuff has now become Fexyk's tool because he controls his members into spreading hatred and advertising lies to all of them. I'm not calling Fluff & Stuff's members "stupid" themselves but there are many select members who have subscribed to his beliefs and advertise the hatred. Furrmont has not ONCE attempted to convince our members into hating on them. We all have our own opinions and feelings towards Fexyk and Cherry but we keep them to ourselves.

You know, I gotta thank Fluffles for showing us what really happened. Fluffles was the first person to realize who and what Fexyk really was. The moment he left everything slowly began to deteriorate. We all eventually followed in his footsteps and left.

You may ask how and why a server with such a promising future, and a server with the ability to gain members and support at such an amazing rate thoroughly collapsed and became the appalling wasteland we all know today. The answer to that is simple: Drama. Over an extended period of time members of staff who made the largest contribution to the server eventually left the server because the owner has many issues such as: A major superiority complex, being completely imperceptive and oblivious to any form of truth, lack of effort, ignorance, arrogance, instigating arguments at every possible opportunity, etc.. (Did we mention that Fexyk is 13? Although it isn't a form of justification, even people like Cherry have tried to use that as a reason)

Several staff have already left Fluff & Stuff and Team Cherry and when you ask each staff associate why they left it's for all for the same reasons, Fexyk or Cherry. In Fluff & Stuff, Fluffles was the first person to realize how Fexyk was nothing more than a troll himself, with no actual ideas or plans for the server other than "getting more members". Fexyk has never once focused on improving the quality of the server and purge the community of its toxicity. Other staff that have left because of Fexyk include:

- Lolita Ex Co-Owner (Left because of terrible server management)
- Fluffles - Ex Co-Owner (Demoted/left over deleting ROBLOX allies in the group)
- Sizinus - Ex Co-Owner (Demoted/left because Fexyk harassed him)
- Jim_nex - Ex Co-Owner (Demoted/left because of the terrible server environment, lack of effort from Owner, threats and harassment from owner)
- Grantular - Ex Co-Owner (Left because of the terrible state of the server and how staff's opinions and ideas weren't valued)
- Celestial - Ex Admin (Left over following Grant's path and with drama)
- Brandonus (Demoted/left for light attacks and even kicked for adding an -us after each word)
- Lara - Ex Moderator (Demoted/left and banned for being 'too strict' for keeping moderation with absolutely 0 shitposts during her activity)

- Lurest - Ex Co-Owner (Left because he couldn't handle the terrible state of the server and the toxicity)
- And more..

We've all realized what he is, and we're all very aware of the direction that server is heading, and have all chosen to leave.

Lurest - Ex Co-Owner (Left after seeing the server's sad state of affairs, and after viewing Lolita's document about why he left Fluff & Stuff. Recently Lurest attempted to attain the Co-Owner position once more after trying to switch "sides" and placate Fexyk.

Lurest returned to Fexyk after we "blackmailed" him. Jim and I have done nothing of the sort. All we did was support your decision to leave Fluff & Stuff.

black-mail

- "The action, treated as a criminal offense, of demanding money from a person in return for not revealing compromising or injurious information about that person."

There was no harm involved or any ransom for anything at all, unless Lurest sees his guilty pleasure as harmful, then there's no reason to go on and deny it all rather than to have accepted it.

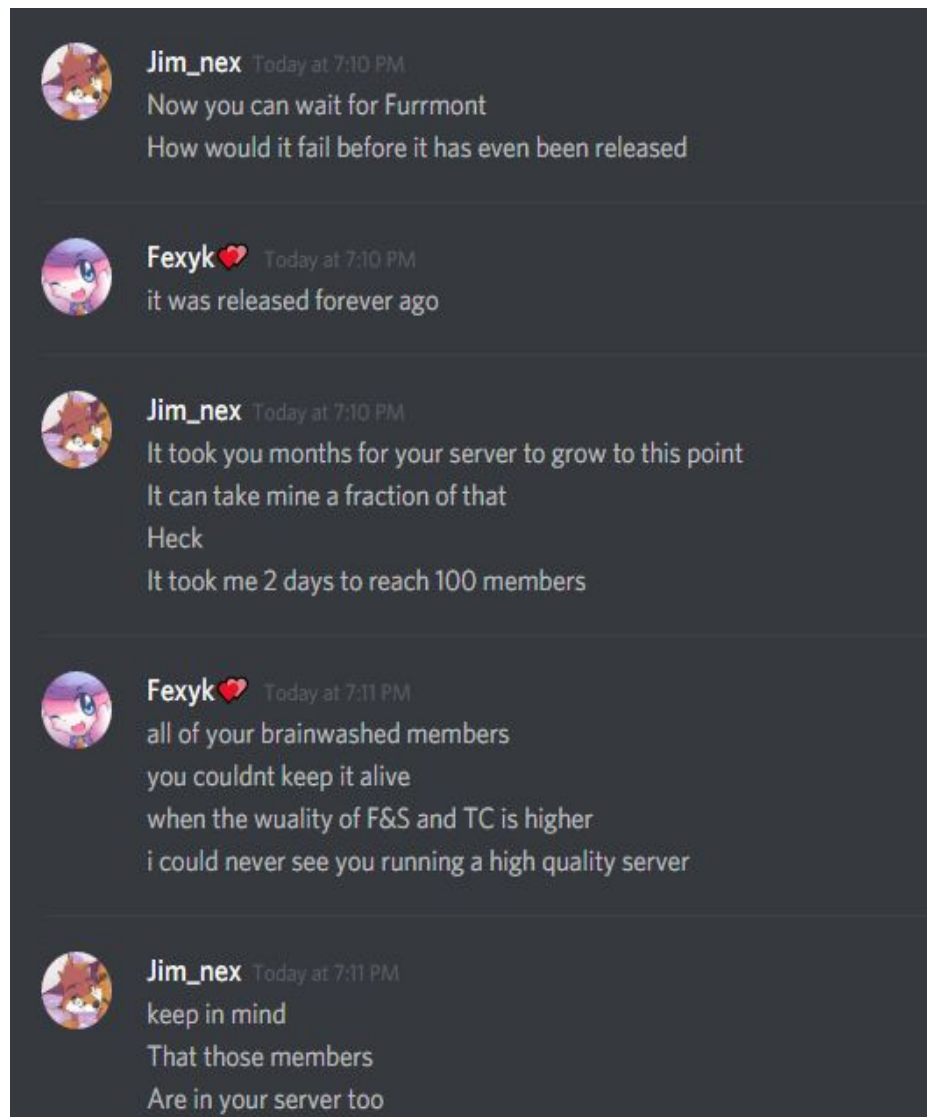

How's trying to get Co-Owner again so far? You've decimated your reputation in this community. Oddly enough, you claim to "hate furies" and this community, yet you still want to moderate it.

Fexyk the pathological liar

Fexyk now pushed into a corner from the amount of times he has been exposed by different people, and the fact that he has to cater to all the remaining active members in his servers demands so that they will stay is absolute nonsense.

Before we officially released Furrmont, Fexyk tried his absolute best to slander our name before we had even began. Fexyk was scared that Furrmont could actually surpass his own server, and considering the fact that numbers is the only factor that matters to Fexyk in all of this, that frightened him. He made multiple pings either advertising his documents that he made against Furrmont or he would just incessantly encourage fellow members in his server to spread hatred.

We at Furrmont don't care whether or not we will surpass Team Cherry or Fluff & Stuff. We want nothing more than an environment and a clean community free of all their bullshit.

With the help of friends and others we were able to get Furrmont to over 100 members in a mere two days, a good fraction of his server.

Fexyk calls our members "brainwashed" yet we avoid talking about drama and other servers. We have a strict "No-Drama" policy and we enforce it. If Fexyk is losing an argument, he will simply blame Furrmont and try to evade the derogatory comments he just made. Same goes for Cherry.

Brainwashing would be trying to stick in a belief in someone with the use of force, same goes with his Strawpoll.

When he was trying to use his server and a strawpoll to make him to a stupid decision, whether to "relax", or to make the docs on Jim & Furrmont. Meanwhile incorrectly using the term, "narcissistic" either he was focusing on Jim instead ironically, or on himself and making the members chose what he would do. He is subjecting his members to this negative environment, and again, "using them as a tool for drama."

Fexyk, can obviously not see me (Jim) running a high quality server for myself. Because I've been working with servers, but not as the owner of the servers itself. He claims it's "difficult" to run a server when he doesn't do jack shit. He ignores all the servers demands and proposals for change. Fexyk Ignores his own staffs ideas and doesn't allow them to enforce rules because he believes that will make the server "more active".

He believes that constant floods of images, abuse of bot-commands, and drama lead to an active and stable server. That is obviously erroneous, yet he continues to allow it without hesitation.

But keep in mind Fexyk, you called our members brainwashed. But did you think of what to say at all, of course not. You call our members “brainwashed” yet give no supporting evidence to those comments. You just state it and expect people to believe You.

Overall, Team Cherry and Fluff & Stuff are the shitty duo. They’re both terrible servers with a terrible owner. Everything we’ve stated in this document is still only a fraction of what has happened. This documents purpose was intended to be a response to Fexyk and Cherry relentlessly attack Furrmont and our members for no reason. They’re using our server as an excuse to distract the public from their mistakes and that bullshit they’ve done. I’m sure most people won’t read this document, but I’m just glad that we both have the ability to create something of this magnitude and share it. We hope you will all learn from this document. We don’t want chaos in their servers. We just want awareness for who they are and what they’ve done. If they decide to respond then we’re pulling out the big guns.

The end

Out of respect for our members who don’t want to participate in this, and out of respect for Furrmont itself. We will not be spreading this document anywhere in our server. We have a strict “No-Drama” policy and we’re going to honor it.

We’ve left out numerous different screenshots, and ignored many different topics because they involve other people who don’t want to be involved or want their name in this document.

Well, we can already expect the outcome of your responses. Cherry’s going claim that everything in this document is lies and call us hypocrites but give no real evidence into why he would call us that. Cherry is going to say everything we’ve discussed are rumors created by people who hate him. Fexyk is going to claim that we're liar and hypocrites. He's going to make a bunch of false statements regarding any offensive joke we've ever made. I assume they will collaborate on a document against us together which would be interesting to see.

We originally didn't want to dignify any of your false statements with a response and give you the satisfaction and advertisement for you and your servers. But you both decided to relentlessly attempt to slander our server on a totally false basis. We have done nothing to you, and have kept the mentioning of both your names in our server to a minimum.

- *Grand Finale.

Same here Cherry, we're just attempting to raise awareness against you and what you're trying to do.

Well isn't this fucking ironic, you're a big disgrace to the fandom yourself. I saw this coming a mile away, in fact, why not look at all the stuff you've done. Do you really need to re-read the document?

Unless you'd want to come out and confirm that you've sent nudes to underage users, then I'd stay shut and not target me. Your opinions are as bipolar as you, they change always.
